I. W. W.'S FIRE ON VICTORY PARADE

Snipers Kill 4 From Ambush, Many Nabbed In Raids.

Centralla, Washington, Nov. 11.—Dale Hubbard, one of the victims in today's shooting during the armistice parade, died tonight of his wounds, bringing the death list up to four.

It was learned late tonight that the man hanged by the mob here was Drift Smith, secretary of the I. W. W. local here.

About 8 o'clock the mob surrounding the Centralla jail succeeded in getting one of the I. W. W.'s arrested out of the jail and into an automobile, rushing him away before guards could prevent it, telephone reports here said.

According to report, the mob took the alleged I. W. W. from jail, escorted him to a point just outside the city limits and hanged him on a bridge on what is known as the old Chehalis Military road.

Police tonight raided I. W. W. headquarters and took forty men who were attending a meeting to the city jail for investigation.

The roundup of all men in Portland suspected of being members of the Industrial Workers of the World was ordered tonight by Mayor George Baker. Chief of Police Jenkins at once detailed a squad of special police to search the city.

Centralla, Wash., Nov. 11.—Three former soldiers, members of the American Legion, were killed, two mortally wounded and several other soldiers were less seriously hurt when persons said to be members of the Industrial Workers of the World fired on an Armistice Day parade today as it passed the I. W. W. hall.

A man said to have been one of those who fired on the marchers is believed to have been lynched tonight by citizens.

At least eight supposed Industrial Workers of the World are in the local jail, guarded from a mob of several hundred friends of the men shot down today.

The dead: Arthur McElfresh, Centralla; Ben Casagrande, Centralla; Warren Grimm, Centralla.

The wounded include: Dale Hubbard, Centralla, probably fatally; John Earl Watt, Chehalis, probably fatally.

Snipers in I. W. W. Hall.

The shooting began when the parade drew abreast of the Industrial Workers of the World hall, according to witnesses, the bullets going over the heads of the crowd watching the parade. Onlookers say shots came from every direction and that snipers in the upper windows of the I. W. W. headquarters building fired into the line.

McElfresh was killed instantly. Grimm, formerly a lieutenant, was leading a platoon in the parade and fell at the second burst of fire, mortally wounded.

George Stevens, of Centralla, attempted to disarm an alleged I. W. W., and was wounded in the struggle which ensued.

Hubbard sustained his wound in pursuing a supposed I. W. W. who fired as he ran from the group of men headed by Hubbard.

It was this man, according to reports, who was hanged by a mob tonight.

Struck In Body.

Casagrande was in the ranks and a rifle bullet struck him in the body. "They got me this time," he said as he doubled up and fell in the street.

The crowd, unformed and ununiformed, started the chase.

Gathering up persons suspected of affiliation with the radical order, some of the service men took them to jail while others of the marchers tore out the front of the building where the I. W. W. headquarters is located, seized and burned a quantity of literature and all the furniture and distributed among themselves and Centralla citizens the arms and ammunition stored in the headquarters.

Meanwhile a crowd was gathering about the jail. Former service men, some of them armed with the seized weapons and others armed, patrolled the ground near the jail to prevent further violence.

Kicked Pistol From I. W. W.

According to ex-service men, who said they were present, Hubbard's party caught the man they were chasing, after he had fired at them several times, on the banks of the Skookunchuck river, a small stream that runs through the town. Hubbard and the man grappled, they said, and the supposed I. W. W. fired directly into Hubbard's body. George Stevens, another of the crowd chasing the gunman, kicked the pistol from the I. W. W.'s hands.

A rope was then placed around the man's neck, thrown over the cross arm of a telephone pole, and he was hoisted into the air. The police persuaded the crowd to let the man down before he was dead, and he was taken to jail.

T. C. Rogers, mayor of Centralla, A. C. Hughes, chief of police, and other citizens addressed the crowd in front of the jail tonight, asking the citizens not to attempt to lynch the prisoners.

Early tonight a meeting to discuss the situation was held at a local club, and soon afterward the city's electric lights failed. In the darkness one man was removed from the jail.

Hanged To Bridge.

The best available account said the man was placed in an automobile which was waiting in readiness, flanked by six other cars filled with men, and hurried into a wood near the town.

This man, reports said later, was hanged to a bridge. It generally is believed that the lynching had taken place.

Rumors of additional violence here were current late tonight. More than one citizen declared: "There will not be any I. W. W.'s left in the jail by morning." Governor Hart has ordered one company of the State Guard, numbering about seventy-five men, here from Tacoma.

The whole city has turned out to celebrate the anniversary of the suspension of hostilities and a large parade was formed, headed by the city's boys who had helped bring about the glad day a year ago. Wearing the uniforms that sheltered them in the trenches in France and on the picket lines of the German border, the service men were the cynosure of the hundreds of women and children who lined the streets.

As the column swung around the corner of Tower avenue and Second avenue the band struck up a patriotic march. Then bullets came into the ranks from an unseen enemy. Men fell to the pavement and tiny rivulets of blood showed the spectators what had taken place, the crack of the rifles of the assassins having been drowned by the blare of the band.

Thin puffs of smoke from the roof of a nearby building indicated whence the bullets had come and the nearness of the I. W. W. hall led to the quick decision that the heroes who had weathered the sanguinary battlefields of Europe had been slain from ambush by radicals who opposed the American system of government.

FARMERS' HARD LUCK.

In addition to the loss of beans and peas, due to the protracted wet weather, farmers of this county, in fact of a very large area have almost totally lost thousands of acres of their very best corn by the recent high waters.

Corn was down on the ground, worse, perhaps, than ever known before, owing to lack of moisture around the roots. Then when the overflow came, sediment forced on the ears and made them one solid mass. Only a small portion of such corn can possibly be saved. By turning hogs into the soggy fields is about the only means of getting anything out of the corn recently inundated.

NEAR ACCIDENT.

Mr. L. T. Parks, of Manda, came near having a serious accident yesterday when a horse which he was riding became frightened at an automobile. The horse in plunging and rearing up, threw Mr. Parks backward, both feet hanging in the stirrups, although his body did not hit the ground, he was considerably shaken up by being jostled by the horse's legs, finally one foot was released and he was dragged a considerable distance before the stirrup leather broke, releasing him before serious damage resulted.

HOWELL "FIRED" BY STATE TAX BOARD

Man Who Put Armstrong Deal Into Light Gets Big Boot

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 12.—The State Tax Commission today "bounced" E. J. Howell, of Owensboro, from his job in the Department of Motor Vehicles.

His dismissal became necessary, so the commission says, because there was nothing for him to do, and because he had been accused of taking the duplicate of a bill for the sale of some cloth to the Board of Control from the reform school, of which he was former superintendent. This bill and sale was one of the sensations of the recent campaign, and by a statement made by Howell the sale of the cloth by Armstrong & Co., of Louisville, was disclosed.

This cloth sale is under investigation by the Fayette County grand jury and Howell has lost his job.

Ask Special Session.

Some of the appointees of Governor Black and former Governor Stanley have requested Governor Black to call a special session of the Senate to confirm the appointments. Governor Black is considering the request just like any other petition, but he has not determined what he will do.

As Governor Black leaves his office next month and Governor-elect Morrow comes in, it is up to Governor-elect Morrow to send the names of the appointees of Governor Black and former Governor Stanley to the Senate for confirmation. If Governor Morrow does not send them they can not get there, and while the Senate might not confirm the appointments of Governor Morrow, it has no authority to require him to send in the other appointees, and the courts might have to be called on to solve the problem. It is likely that Governor Black will determine his course in a few days.

THE FEDERAL LAND BANK DECLARES A DIVIDEND

Mr. McDowell A. Fogie, secretary-treasurer of the Hartford National Farm Loan Association, has received notice from the Federal Land Bank of Louisville that the Directors have declared a dividend of six per cent per annum on all stock held by national farm loan associations. This dividend was not unexpected by persons acquainted with the progress being made by this bank. Although it has been in business for a little more than two years it has paid all of its organization expenses and has placed twenty-five per cent of its net earnings in reserve account, and after paying this dividend has a nice sum left in the undivided profits.

The Louisville bank now has loans of more than $19,000,000 and it is estimated they will increase to $30,000,000 within the next year.

REMAINS LONG BURIED BROUGHT TO OAKWOOD

All of the caskets were in a good state of preservation.

The deceased parties were mother, sister and aunt of Mr. Rowan Holbrook of this place.

SALVATION ARMY

Home Service Fund Campaign From Nov. 23 To Dec. 2.

The National Campaign for the Salvation Army Home Service Fund which was conducted through out the nation last June but which was postponed in Ohio County for various reasons will be put on in Ohio County beginning November 23rd and will last for ten days.

Hugh M. Oldfield, District Director of the Salvation Army, was in Hartford a few days ago conferring with Mr. Fogle, county chairman, members of the county organization and other prominent citizens and they gave their assurance that Ohio County will do her part in the coming campaign and will raise its quota of $1,400 which the Salvation Army is asking from its citizens.

In view of the fact that this wonderful organization rendered invaluable service to the soldiers overseas and as an expression of appreciation for that service and unlimited sacrifice, the people of Ohio County will consider it a privilege to contribute to this most worthy cause, that the Salvation Army may go on doing its work, that is of serving humanity, to help the helpless, feed the hungry, uplift the fallen, rescue the perishing and care for the dying.

Let the people of this county rally to the Salvation Army in the same spirit as this wonderful organization rallied to our soldiers overseas. Help them to get back on their feet that they may continue their home service work over here. Their work calls for the gratitude, respect and affection of the people of our whole country. The people can not invest in a better and more deserving cause. We owe it! Invest in humanity and reap the blessings of knowing that your contribution is helping to make the world brighter and better.

EXIT THE YELLOW DOG.

Another State election has passed into history. The result shows more clearly than anything else, perhaps, the passing of the day of the "yellow dog" voter—the citizen who blindly voted for the candidate of his party, regardless of whether or not the candidate upheld the traditions and principles of his party, or was merely actuated by motives of self-aggrandizement or financial gain. And with the "yellow dog" voter must go, perforce, the raucous-voiced, mud-slinging demagogue who, lacking brains to discuss intelligently the issues of the day, seeks to conceal his ignorance by vilification and abuse while endeavoring to beguile the public into voting so that he may be rewarded with a slice of political pie.

That Morrow was elected by the Democrats of the State none will deny. They voted, not against the principles of democracy, but in order that these principles might survive, and the party be rid at once and forever of the rule of the political gangsters who have brought nothing but disgrace to the Democrats of Kentucky.

Tuesday's events do not mark a weakening of Democratic power—merely prove the growing tendency of a long-suffering people to place honor and integrity in politics above that overworked bugaboo of the "professional politician"—"party loyalty."—Russellville Messenger.

JUDGE EVANS HITS WARTIME DRY ACT

Says Law Unconstitutional, Grants Liquor Men Injunction.

(Louisville Herald.)

A temporary injunction restraining federal officials from interfering with the removal and sale of whisky owned by the Brown-Forman Company and Wright & Taylor, on which government tax has been paid, will be granted this morning by Judge Walter Evans, according to a decision announced by him from the bench yesterday. The matter was held in abeyance by the court until today on request of District Attorney W. V. Gregory that he give time to consult his wishes in the litigation.

Attorneys for the distillery companies declined to enter into an agreement whereby the case would have been carried direct to the United States Supreme court and a writ of superedeas obtained whereby the operation of the injunction would have been suspended until the court passed on the case November 20.

Should the temporary injunction be granted this morning an appeal will be taken immediately to the United States District Court of Appeals at Cincinnati by Mr. Gregory, unless an agreement is reached with the plaintiffs as to the suggested procedure carrying the case at once to the Supreme Court.

"Entitled To Relief."

This was indicated last night by Mr. Gregory after he received an answer from the attorney general approving his recommendation as to disposal of the cases here.

"I am firmly of the opinion that the wartime prohibition act is unconstitutional and that the petitioners are entitled to relief," Judge Evans said when Mr. Gregory for the government asked the court to hold his decision in abeyance until the Supreme Court decides the Kentucky Distilleries case that will come up for hearing November 20 from the local court. This case involves the constitutionality of the wartime prohibition act also, the same general relief being asked. "If the plaintiffs will agree to the same procedure in these cases as in the Kentucky Distilleries case," Mr. Gregory suggested, "I will guarantee that they will be taken up to the Supreme Court immediately and we will have an opportunity to have them heard and decided at the same time, as I intend to argue the matter in Washington November 20." To this, however, William Marshall Bullitt, attorney for the plaintiffs, objected.

More Suits This Morning.

As matters now stand an injunction in favor of the two companies which have filed suit, will affect them only, leaving all other firms subject to the provisions and enforcement of the wartime prohibition act. It was learned last night that several more suits will probably be filed this morning so that the one decision will grant relief to all.

GARDNER—CLARKE.

Monday afternoon at 2 P. M., Miss Era Gardner, of Heaver Dam, and Rev. L. W. Clarke, of Knoxville, Tennessee, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Ida Gardner, Rev. Edgar Allen performing the ceremony in the presence of the family and the most intimate friends of the bride. Miss Norma Jackson played the wedding march and during the ceremony "Thine Own" was played, which made it a very impressive one. The couple left immediately for their new home in Knoxville, where the groom has charge of one of the largest churches at that place.

CLERKSHIP IN BANK OF HARTFORD CHANGES

Miss Annetta Gillespie, formerly with the Hartford Herald as a typewriter operator, but for some weeks past a clerk in the bank of Hartford, has resigned her position to accept the position formerly held with the Herald. Miss Hula King has accepted the position vacated by Miss Gillespie, assuming her duties Wednesday of this week.

OFFICERS OF ARMY QUIT IN BIG DROVES

One Fourth Of Regular Personnel Have Left Service.

Washington, Nov. 8. Up to noon today more than one-fourth of all officers of the combatant arms who were in the regular army when the armistice was signed have resigned and scores of other resignations are now waiting the action of the president and the Secretary of War.

The total number of resignations accepted up to noon today was 1,959, which includes 22 per cent of all officers in the Coast Artillery Corps; 30 per cent in the Field Artillery; 25 per cent of Cavalry officers; 20 per cent of Infantry officers, and 16 per cent of the official personnel of the Engineers.

No Increase Since 1908.

Officers who are quitting the service, and more have resigned since the armistice than resigned during the entire history of the Regular Army prior to November, 1918, are the younger officers, Lieutenants and Captains, those who can least be spared. Practically none of the field officers, whose salaries make it possible for them to make both ends meet during the present period of high cost of living are resigning.

"The army," says a memorandum just issued by the Moral Division of the General Staff, "is in a very serious condition. The extraordinary high cost of necessities of life has so reduced the standard of living to which officers have heretofore been accustomed, that there has resulted a profound state of discontent and low morale in the service."

Those who resign are men of high initiative, force, energy and self-reliance, military qualities which the army can ill afford to lose. This drain affecting officers of the more desirable type, not only affects present efficiency, but bodes ill for the quality of leadership of the army of the future.

1,900 Have Resigned.

Officers of the army are now being paid on the salary scale passed by Congress in 1908, since which time no increases have been granted.

Since the armistice the resignations of over 1,900 officers of the regular army have been accepted. This is more than one-sixth of all the officers authorized in the service.

Their training has been expensive, and represents an investment to the Government the value of which now becomes a loss. In the great majority of cases the reason for resignation, if expressed, is given as financial.

James Watson Says, "I'll Never Forget When Father's Hogs Got Cholera"

"One morning he found 20 hogs dead and several sick. He called in the Vet., who after dissecting a rat caught on the premises, decided that the rodents had conveyed germs. Since then I am never without RAT-SNAP. It's the surest, quickest rat destroyer I know." Three sizes, 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold and guaranteed by J. F. Caschler, Acton Bros., Taylor's Drug Store, Williams & Duke.

FRENCHMAN INVENTS "FLYER AIRPLANE"

Paris, Nov. 8. Enter the portals of "Flyer" airplane! There is no reason why every home should not possess one, for it can be assembled, fitted and flown easily by one, even a young girl. Indeed, it can be stored in the backyard and take to the air from roadway, roof, or a large apartment window.

The French engineer, Archer, is the inventor. The machine weighs 120 pounds and is driven by an electric motor. It can carry two passengers at a rate of 140 miles an hour, remaining in the air for more than sixty minutes.

M. Archer says he refuses to make any profit from his invention which he calls his "gift to humanity." It is said to have proved entirely successful on trial flights.

New York promoters are reported to be negotiating for the plans of the flyer with the view to turning out a few thousand as a starter, to be used by Garden communities, putting automobiles and ferries out of date.

BRITISH TAKE CARE OF YANKS' BURIAL PLACES

London, Nov. 8. Graves of American soldiers and sailors in England are being cared for by the British Government. Lovers about them are regularly mowed and flowers growing on them are tended and the white wooden crosses bearing each man's identity are kept in good condition.

Lieut. Col. J. Pearce, Adjutant, in charge of the contingent in England, is at present clearing up details of the disposition of the last American soldiers.

an inspection of 2,400 graves in ninety-six cemeteries. When Col Pearce closes his office here the American military attaché at the embassy here will take over work in connection with the graves that heretofore has been done by the army.

"The British Government always has cared for these graves and will continue to do so," Col Pearce said to the Associated Press. "I was happily surprised at what I saw on my inspection. Not even the isolated graves, and there are a good many of them, have been overlooked. I am sure the same careful attention will be given the graves by the British until some plan for disinterment with probable concentration is arrived at."

A Rat That Didn't Smell After Being Dead For 3 Months.

"I swear it was dead at least 3 months," said James Sykes, butcher, Westfield, N. J. "We saw this rat every day. Put a cake of RAT-SNAP behind a barrel. Months later my wife asked about the rat. Remembered the barrel, looked behind it. There was the rat—dead, not the slightest odor." Three sizes, 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold and guaranteed by J. F. Caschler, Acton Bros., Taylor's Drug Store, Williams & Duke.

CARRANZA REPUDIATES DEBTS OF 2 REGIMES

Mexico City, Nov. 8.—The Mexican Government does not recognize debts contracted by the Victoriano Huerta and Francisco Sarvajal regimes and will not pay any claims based upon damages suffered during the period these two men were President, according to a statement issued by Luis Cabrera, Secretary of the Treasury.

This was evoked by an assertion credited to Senator Fall, of the United States Senate committee investigating Mexican affairs, that the present Government has such financial responsibilities.

Secretary Cabrera declared the presidencies of Huerta and Carranza were anti-democratic and unconstitutional and imposed no obligations on the present Government.

GEN. WOOD FAVORED.

Members of Congress Pick Gen. For 1920 Candidate

(Courier-Journal.)

Washington, Nov. 8.—In a confidential poll of Congress made by a newspaper, Gen. Leonard Wood is strongly favored for the Republican presidential nomination. He received not only more preference than any of the other candidates, but the total revealed more expression for him than for all of his competitors.

Members of Congress polled were asked the question:

"Who, in your opinion, will be the nominee of the Republican party for President in 1920?"

This question was asked and assurance given them that their reply would be treated confidentially and only the result would be made known without indicating how individual stood.

The poll showed the following result:

House—Gen. Leonard Wood, 116; Gov. Frank D. Lowden, 41; Senator James E. Watson, 23; Senator Warren G. Harding, 22; Senator William Johnson, 6; William H. Taft, 3; Gen. Pershing, 2; Senator Philander C. Knox, 1; Gov. William C. Sprowl, 1; noncommittal, 15. Absent 7.

Senate—Gen. Wood, 20; Senator Harding, 4; Senator Johnson, 4; Senator Watson, 3; Senator Pendergast, 2; Charles E. Hughes, 1; Senator Borah, 1; Senator Kellogg, 1; Senator Spencer, 1; Senator Lodge, 1; Senator Southard, 1; Gen. Pershing, 1; noncommittal, 5.

The poll, it is declared, showed that the New England States were almost unanimously for Wood, who was born in New Hampshire and educated in Harvard University.

Members from New York State also showed a strong preference for Gen. Wood, due, perhaps, to the Plattsburg movement and his association with the name of Col. Roosevelt. Fifteen New York members expressed a preference for him, one for Lowden, one for Watson, one for Taft, one for Pershing and three were noncommittal.

CAMP TAYLOR TO BE DISMANTLED

Knox Will Be Chief Army Post In Ky., Only One Needed

Washington, Nov. 8.—Completion of land purchases and construction work at more than a score of army camps and fields over the country, was approved today by the House Military committee which recommended passage of a bill granting the War Department authority to spend approximately $4,500,000 additional on these camps.

Final decision as to the acquisition of the Dayton-Wright plant, including the adjacent aviation field, at a cost of $22,740,000 more to the government and of the Curtiss-Elmwood aviation plant, Buffalo, for $1,804,000 additional, was left with a subcommittee.

The committee voted $986,000 for completing the Camp Knox, Ky., project, of which sum $811,000 is for land purchases. This fund will not be available, however, until Camp Taylor, Ky., is salvaged profitably.

Other expenditures for lands approved by the committee included: Watervliet, N. Y., Arsenal, $300,000; Camp Vail, N. J., $110,000; Camp Humphreys, Va., $20,000; Ft. Revere, Mass., $975; Midland, Mich., salt well site of the chemical warfare service, $3,000.

To Buy Real Estate.

For the real estate at various air stations, the committee approved the following:

Houston, Tex., Ellington Field, $40,540; Rantoul, Ill., Chanute Field, $208,000; Memphis, Tenn., Park Field, $83,400; Sacramento, Cal., Mather Field, $78,600; Miami, Fla., Chapman Field, $71,000; Riverside, Cal., March Field, $61,000; San Antonio, Tex., Brooks Field, $140,000; San Antonio, Kelly Field No. 2, $349,686; Middletown, Pa., supply depot, $50,000; Little Rock, Ark., supply depot, $55,000; Los Angeles, Cal., Arnold Balloon school $55,655; Mount Clement, Mich., Zellerbach Field, $190,000.

The committee rejected War Department requests for expenditures of $600,000 at three motor transport camps, including Camp Holabird, Md.

Representative Anthony, Republican, Kansas, who will frame the report, said the committee was opposed to locating two big camps in Kentucky, and that the maximum usefulness of Camp Taylor could not be obtained without additional land for a training field. The committee plan, he said, would result in the dismantling of Camp Taylor and the sale of the ground.

CUTTING.

(London Ideas.)

"How did you get on?"

"The sweet young maiden breathed the words into her lover's manly ear as she met him at the passage. He had been 'seeing father' and she wanted to know the result."

"Oh, your father is heartless!"

"And the young man, indignantly."

"I told him I could not live without you, and—"

"Yes, yes!" impatiently said the girl. "What did he say?"

"He merely offered to pay my funeral expenses."

Only a Cold.

Are you ill? Is often answered—"Oh! It's only a cold," as if a cold was a matter of little consequence, but people are beginning to learn that a common cold is a matter not to be trifled with, that some of the most serious diseases start with a cold. As soon as the first indication of a cold appears take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Remember that the sooner you get rid of your cold the less the danger, and this remedy will help you to throw it off.

NO CARDS IN THE HOUSE.

(Indianapolis News.)

The fourth grade teacher had a great deal of trouble with Fred's attendance. He was absent so often that she got suspicious and wrote a note to his parents, as follows:

"I am afraid that Fred is playing truant and I would like your co-operation in securing a better attendance record from him."

"Dear Teacher:—If Fred is playing truant he didn't learn it at home. We all church people and hadn't got a card in our house."

FRIDAY ..... NOVEMBER 14

The calling off of the Miners' strike was perhaps the best piece of news given to the American people since notice of the surrender of the Hun flashed around the Globe one year ago.

President Wilson's messages of felicitation, or congratulation to the Republican candidate for Governor-elect of Massachusetts, recently sent, is the first from that source given a Republican during the past few years. At least it is the only one we can think of.

In the Proceedings by Congress to oust Victor Berger, the unpatriotic, anti-American elected to that body, by the Socialists of Milwaukee, by a vote of 309 to 1, except for the lone 1 vote, was a happy ending of Victor's aspirations to serve the devil and rebellion in our National Law Making Body. It is said that the member casting the lone vote is to be investigated. More than likely he deserves further notice.

When a man can stand in the middle of a desert, with not a drop of moisture in sight anywhere, and vote for still more dryness, as the majority in Kentucky did on the 4th, it may be evidence conclusive, that the dried-out rather like it best that way. Had it been a matter of mere whim, the fellow who was caught well soaked might have voted for a dry spell, and, by the same token, those who have been pinched by the drought of a few months duration would likely have voted the other way.

In a shake-up, or shake-down, financial stocks took a big tumble this week. Money is said to be tighter and harder to procure since the squawky times of 1907. Things are bound to hit a level in some manner and if the various articles we require to keep off hunger and hide and warm our nearly naked bodies, will meet us somewhere on the road of reason we are willing to take a chance with a money panic of moderate sized proportions. In fact we think now that we would rather like it.

On November the 23rd, Ohio county is to renew the postponed drive toward securing its quota, $1,400, for the Salvation Army's Home Service fund. Other matters coming up at the time this drive was supposed to have been on, last June, caused it to be put aside. No more worthy cause than this of the Salvation Army, for popular support, can be brought before us. It is one in which we should all have a hand, the amount asked is small and a little giving by the public in general will put us over the top.

Collective bargaining for a day's wage, like collective or combined selling of the commodities and necessities of life, when it demands more than it's just dues, is wrong from every view-point. The great trouble with the vast majority of those given the power by organization or otherwise, is that they fail to see the line where reason and right ends and extortion begins. Time is not far distant when some power, perhaps that now being crushed and jammed between the two extremes must have the larger voice as umpire. Not alone because the great majority is furnishing grist for the grinders do we think control will be wrested from those tarring the upper and lower classes, but because in the end the rule of reason, and of right must, and will, prevail.

The vast majority of people here, and in the rest of the country, are in favor of peace, and of a just and lasting peace.

various other societies practicing relief and extending a helping hand to the fallen and unfortunate men and women of this and other countries. But our idea, if it be that, is far from correct. In these strenuous days, days of earnest, of high cost of living, as winter approaches, when thousands and thousands are out of employment, facing want and sick beds that must look to the more fortunate for succor and assistance, a helping hand is needed at home as never before. If you have not already answered the Red Cross call for a dollar, do so at the first chance. This is a worthy cause. Help.

ATTRACTIONS WELL SELECTED

Numbers Will Be Both Inspiring

MARIE ROSE LAULER.

Every good American who recalls the ungrateful part of France in helping the American colonies to gain their independence, will realize that this country cannot but be deeply interested in the problems to be solved in restoring the ravaged territory of our sister republic. Miss Lauler gives an intimate account of the condition of France, as seen by her in a recent visit there, and tells some of the things that must be done there in the immediate future to come.

Marie Rose Lauler was a French schoolgirl in a Belgian convent when the war broke out and she tells from a woman's standpoint the story of the German advance through Belgium, tells of the barbaric atrocities committed upon women, old men and children and recounts also the story of her own imprisonment by the Germans, her escape and recapture, and finally how she came to the United States of which she is a citizen, although at the beginning of the war she had never been to America and had never seen a "Streak".

MARIE ROSE LAULER.

could not speak English. She tells her story in a vivid, authentic lecture which bears the appropriate title of "The Spirit of the Women of France." As long as the memory of the world endures people will honor the heroic women of France and Belgium. The outrages visited upon them by the ravaging Hun, their unquenchable spirit in the midst of overwhelming woes will never be forgotten.

BEADS ODDLY STRUNG

The anti-digger ravings of the present editor of the Hartford Herald and the anti-Irish rantings of the former editor are amusing examples of "bush" journalism.

Thirty years ago Dave Hill, the New York politician, was much abused for saying that in a political contest he had rather have the liquor men than the church people behind him. Dave, maybe, was slack on morals, but he knew the game of politics.

For the enlightenment of the Hartford Herald—and goodness knows it needs enlightenment on many things—you may say that John Henry has just returned from a three days' stay in Louisville and would make an affidavit that there is not a drop to be had in that city. And you may quote this same authority that in the Democratic city of Owensboro it is as easy to get as it was for a Democrat to vote for Morrow.

Many years ago I had a sweetheart that I called my "Girl of Gold," but I saw a sure-enough girl of gold on the stage of the National Theater in Louisville the other night. She was a beauty pleasure in her golden robe. And don't you know, this, if the Madam hadn't been with me, I'd a claimed my newspaper license to have gone behind the scenes to have met her face to face. (Say, Tins, be certain you don't mail the madam a copy of this week's Republican.)

Please stop sending me the Republican. For two weeks now I haven't seen a "Streak", and it is not much to my credit to have the "Beads" appear as the only rotten stuff in the paper.

The wage earners of the country are headed Bolshevikward, and there is a reason. They believe they are being robbed by the profiteers, and feel like they should get their share while the robbing is good. Industrial unrest will break into revolution, open, violent and destructive, before the roses bloom again unless the government finds a way to curb the profiteers or to demonstrate that the widespread belief in profiteering is unfounded.

In view of Morrow's forty thousand and majority Governor Black ought to be generous enough to move to make it manly.

LEASE OPERA HOUSE.

Messrs. L. T. Riley and Park Taylor have leased the Opera House of Dr. L. B. Bean, taking possession at once. They contemplate opening a skating rink and putting on some vaudeville shows during the winter.

Tom Ithea, who withdrew from the gubernatorial race for the sake of "party harmony," apparently might have done a great deal more toward bringing about the desired result had he entirely eliminated himself from Kentucky politics. As it is, we predict that this self-styled "busy business man" will have ample opportunity to demonstrate his business ability before he again has a chance to dabble in State politics.—Russellville Messenger.

DECEASED.

Mr. Enoch Murray, an aged and respected citizen, of Clear Run, answered the death summons last Thursday night and was buried the following day at Clear Run cemetery. He leaves a wife, two sons and one daughter to mourn his departure.

Mrs. J. E. Park and family moved to Owensboro last week.

School re-opened at Concord Monday with Mr. Edward Lee as teacher. Mrs. Harriett Lankam, of Owensboro, has been the guest of Misses Vera and Tom Miskel for several days past.

Mr. and Mrs. Emma Morris, of West Hartford, spent the week end

Farsighted merchandising and a real desire to serve make possible these superlative good values in

Wirthmor Silk Blouses

We contracted many months ago with America's largest and most efficient blouse manufacturers for these Wirthmor Silk Blouses.

However months before we placed our contract the maker had purchased his materials, at prices just about one-half what they are today.

These advantageous contracts, on the part of the manufacturer and ourselves, coupled with the innumerable normal advantages of the Wirthmor plan of blouse making and blouse selling has made possible these really wonderful values.

Having purchased them at such favorable prices, we are, in strict conformity with our policy of giving to our patrons every advantage we enjoy offering them at a price which is far less than they ordinarily are sold for.

They are in fact WORTH MORE; WORTH MUCH MORE; but while they last they will be sold at just $5.00.

Quantity is limited and no more of the same styles will be obtainable.

THE FARM BUREAU.

A move was started in Louisville last week to completely organize Kentucky, by Counties into Farm Bureaus, the ultimate result to be, that the counties will form a State Federation of Farm Bureaus, in the end to be merged into the National Federation of Farm Bureaus.

We have not had an opportunity to study or give the organization much thought, but it strikes us as the only sensible and reasonable thing for the farmer to do. The matter of bringing farmers of all classes together under one head for the purpose of better caring for their many and varied interests looks like a splendid opportunity. The cotton grower, the wheat, corn, tobacco, and growers of all other farm products, not excepting fruit producers and the map who gives his attention to hogs, cattle, sheep and horses may be immensely benefited, not alone by introducing better marketing conditions but by the huge benefits to be derived by education and a more thorough knowledge in the science of production and care of the products after garnered. Farmers everywhere should give this matter their serious and earnest thought. At the meeting held in Louisville, above mentioned, thirty counties in Kentucky, were well represented.

PUBLIC SALE.

I will sell at public auction at my residence, 1 mile west of Rosine, on November 29, one 5 year old Jack, 15 hands high, fine form, black with neatly points, splendid breeder; 11 head of good cattle, 2 work horses, suckling mule, hay, corn, farming implements &c. 2012p J. T. COX.

SENATE VETERAN

T. S. MARTIN, DIES

Charlottesville, Va., Nov. 12.—Senator Thomas S. Martin, the Democratic leader in the Senate, died here today after an illness of several months. He was 72 years old.

Senator Martin had been confined to his bed since last July when he was forced to give up active work in the Senate after a continuous service of twenty-four years. While his condition had been critical for more than two weeks, the end came rather unexpectedly at 1:30 p. m. Four hours earlier the attending physician had issued a bulletin saying the senator had spent a good night and was doing better than usual.

Senator Martin suffered from a leaking heart valve and was moved to a hospital here some weeks ago when he grew worse. Two weeks ago his condition became critical and members of his family were summoned to his bedside, but he rallied within a day or two and later received some visitors and showed a keen interest in public affairs.

STRAY STREAKS

(By Fluke McFluke.)

Harold Hulbrook and John Bozarth went somewhere last week-end to work. We don't know where, nor what. It is supposed they got there 'cause they were home Monday.

We have not seen or heard from Ike Mason since the day after the election, but it was reported that Ike had started for Frankfort to be ready for the opening of the General Assembly, Tuesday after the first Monday in January, 1920.

After two weeks absence due to too much election excitement, (without the old-time formula being injected) and also after being called to support our frail body by a shaky pair of knees on the green carpet in front of the august Board of Directors, we are home again and bid you all, a pleasant good-morning.

Howard Ellis says while he is in the poultry business he wants to tell the world that he deals only in live poultry, and if he were buying other than the live sort he would not think of taking stuff only half picked like that old Plymouth Rock rooster that was suspended over his door Wednesday morning after November the 4.

We have some admiration for a fellow who usually makes not more than six to ten dollars a week and supports a family of 4 or 5, who, when he meets you early in the morning or late in the day, whether it be in rain or sunshine, in exchanging greetings of the day will always come up smiling and tell you he's dandy, never had 'em better'n his life.

It makes but little difference who the man or what his supposed station may be, the fellow who invariably greets you as above, will always be spoken to by all who know him, even those whose lone mission seems to be the carrying of a grudge thru life get the habit of speaking to this fellow whom we meet, who never has anything wrong with himself. The fellow who has always "got 'em going good."

East Hartford voting precinct, in which Lee Simmerman, Ed Burruss, Howard Ellis, Mnt Huater, Steve Mny, and Bob Gillespie vote went wet by a right smart majority on Nov. 4. West Hartford, in which Bro. Hob. Bennett, Hob Walker, Doc. Spott, John King, me and Ab Yeiser live went dry by a nice majority, and we are some proud of it. Oh yes, I liked to forget, Ernest Birkhead votes in the wet territory too. Everybody can draw any sort of conclusion that seemeth to them fitting.

RED CROSS GIVES FULL ACCOUNTING

War Council Tells How Millions Contributed by Public Were Used For Relief.

BIG TASK IS DESCRIBED

In Twenty Months $154,000,000 Was Spent Overseas and $119,000,000 in the United States.

Washington, (Special).—Through a complete report of the work of the American Red Cross in the war by Chairman Henry P. Davison, on behalf of the war council, the organization on the eve of its annual enrollment of members during the Third Red Cross Roll Call, November 2 to 11, has rendered an accounting of the many millions given it by the American people to help our fighting men and our allies. The statement is, in part, as follows:

"The war council of the American Red Cross is now prepared to make a complete accounting to the American people of money contributed and expended, as well as the work done by the American Red Cross during the period in which the war council was in control of its affairs. The war council was appointed May 10, 1918, and went out of existence February 28, 1919.

"It was the practice of the war council to give complete publicity to its policies and finances, but it is only now that a picture of the war period as a whole can be presented. It is the feeling of the war council that a report in this summarized form should be made directly to the public which provided the money and gave the effort which made the American Red Cross a success.

"A statement of the American Red Cross effort and finances since the war council relinquished its control will be made to the public through the executive committee, and it is the intent, therefore, that the fact that this report covers the period only until March 1, should be carefully noted."

Following are certain round figures covering American Red Cross participation in the war, as revealed by the war council's report:

Some Outstanding Figures.

Of the $400,000,000 in money and supplies, contributed to the American Red Cross during the twenty months the war council was in existence, $261,000,000 was allotted to national headquarters, while $137,000,000 went to the chapters to finance their activities. Expenditures in the twenty months totaled $274,000,000, divided as follows: By national headquarters in France, $57,000,000; elsewhere overseas, $61,000,000; in the United States, $18,000,000; by chapters in the United States, $13,000,000; cost of chapter-produced articles distributed in France, $25,000,000; elsewhere overseas, $8,000,000; in the United States, $28,000,000, making total expenditures in France, $82,000,000; elsewhere overseas, $72,000,000; in the United States, $119,000,000.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH THE AMERICAN RED CROSS.

The veritable mountains of relief supplies turned out by the millions of chapter workers during the war made the American Red Cross one of the biggest "manufacturing concerns" in the world, with great warehouse space at scores of strategic points all around the globe.

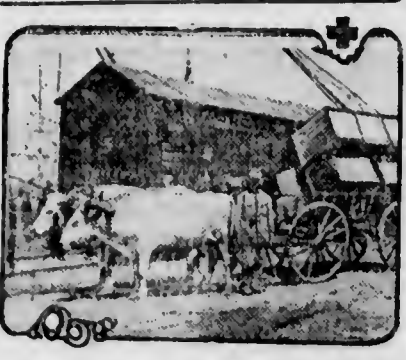

One of the biggest distribution centers was at Saloniki, Greece, and in this picture Bulgarian prisoners of war are seen there unloading a Red Cross cargo of 2,300 boxes from a French transport. At the right is seen one of the American Red Cross canteens, floors of which were used in rushing relief to points where the suffering was greatest.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH THE AMERICAN RED CROSS.

In the City Square of Treves, Germany, headquarters of the allied military forces, an ancient cross surmounted monument marks the city's center of traffic. For this reason American Red Cross officials converted it, as shown by this picture, into a directory of all Red Cross activities in the city.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH THE AMERICAN RED CROSS.

Soon after the entrance of the United States in the war the successes of the Central Powers in Roumania had reduced that country to a most tragic condition and in the summer of 1917, the American Red Cross despatched its first Roumanian relief contingent. Two hospitals were at once taken over and operated by the Red Cross, a canteen for the starving refugees established and food and clothing distributed over a large area.

Transportation was one of the toughest problems with which the Red Cross workers in Roumania had to deal. Here is seen an oxcart used by the Red Cross to carry its relief supplies up into the mountains.

KENTUCKY BAPTISTS PUT CAMPAIGN FIRST

Indications Point To Certain Victory In 75 Million Drive.

Situation There Outlined

Rev. J. R. Black, Publicity Director, Describes Progress In the Blue Grass State To Date.

REV. J. R. BLACK

By REV. J. R. BLACK
Kentucky Publicity Director

The organization of Southern Baptists for the raising of 75 million dollars for all phases of work fostered by this people has now been pushed out until all of the 18 Southern states have followed the suggested organization. Kentucky is not behind in the number, for in the 76 district associations there are now 70 associational organizers, 74 associational publicity men and 60 W. M. U. organizers. It is the purpose to have one of each of these in each association and then in the local church there will be an organizer in addition to the pastor, who is the director, a W. M. U. organizer and three boosters, who will do the publicity work. The organization has also extended until practically all of the 1,850 Baptist churches in Kentucky have these officers in charge and every effort is now being made to bring information and prepare for the great drive which will be made in one week's time, the date of which is November 30th to December 7th.

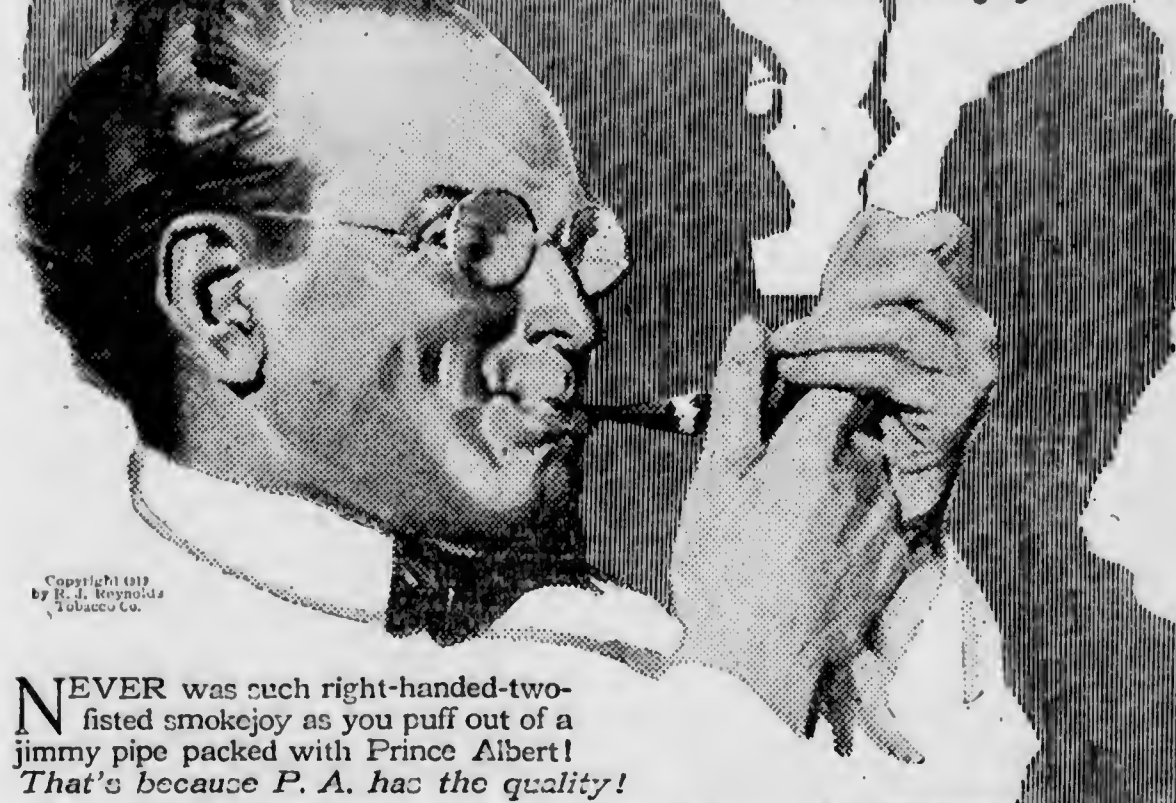

The state organization is in charge of Rev. O. E. Bryan, Corresponding Secretary of Missions, Louisville, Ky., Prof. John L. Hill, of Georgetown College, State Organizer and Director, Georgetown, Ky., and Rev. J. R. Black, Publicity Director, Louisville, Ky. At the general office in Louisville the most encouraging news is being continually received. The people all over the state are so enthusiastic about the campaign that from every quarter responses are now coming and some churches cannot wait for the drive to be made but are now pledging and giving more than was asked of them. The last message received was from Poplar Grove church in Graves county, which was asked for $5,000, and after a sermon by the pastor pledges were made and the amount was more than raised. This has been done in many other places.

The information that is coming to the Baptists is probably one of the greatest benefits that is being derived from the campaign. A pastor in a mountainous association who had been preaching for over thirty years and had always maintained a position against the support of the ministry, and who did not believe in missions, stated at the meeting of the district association which he attended that he had learned more in this meeting of what God intended he should do to send the gospel to the other side, as well as to his neighbor, than in all his life before. A layman who had never given to missions or much for any object of the church, said he wanted to give $200 a year for the five years of the campaign. A railroad man upon hearing the call gave at once a fifty dollar Victory bond and said this was not to be counted as his part when the drive was made. From these to a great gift of $30,000 by Mr. George E. Hays of Louisville the Baptist people are being reached and are enthusiastic to have a part in the great undertaking.

The one day in October that will be emphasized above all other days is the fourth Sunday, October 26th, which is the day set aside and known as the day for "Calling Out the Called." Kentucky expects to have at least 300 young people to dedicate their lives for special religious work on this day. Ministers, pastors, Sunday school workers, pastors' assistants, and H. Y. P. U. workers will hear the call for these different lines of service on this day. One of the most hopeful signs that the Baptists have is the fact that the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary had on October 1st the largest opening of any in the past three years. The W. M. U. Training School at Louisville had 124 young ladies enrolled for special training. Everywhere the campaign has gotten first place in the thinking of the Baptists, and at this time Kentucky Baptists are going forward to do a little of what they have been waiting many years to do.

GET ALONG WITHOUT SCENERY

In That, as in Many Other Ways, the Chinese Theater Seems Primitive
In Our Eyes

Scenery in China is conspicuous by its absence. Mountains, mountains, passes, rivers, bridges, city walls, temples, graves, thrones, beds and other objects are represented by an arrangement of chairs, stools and benches, while the passage of rivers, horse riding, unloading of doors and entering houses where not even a screen exists between the visitor and those he visits, the climbing of mountains, execution of criminals and numerous other actions are presented by pantomimic motions that are perfectly understood by the audience. Thus, a leper drinks wine, in which, unknown to himself, a venomous serpent has been soaked, feels an itching sensation and throws himself into an imaginary fish pond where, to the hearing of gongs, he goes through the motions of washing and finds himself cured of that loathsome disease, to become a future chief graduate. Or a general sent on a distant expedition brandishes his whip, capers around the stage a few times amidst the clashing of cymbals, and then steps and informs his audience that he has arrived. Or a criminal who is to be hung, accompanied by the weird music from the two-stringed fiddle, will walk and mean his confession and then walk over to one side of the stage and stand under a bamboo pole with a rattle tied to the top. He has been hung! All pain is represented by throwing the head back and gazing upward. Anger, by very hard breathing and staring eyes. Every movement of the hand or head, the positions in which the feet and arms are held, are all significant of some definite action and meaning, and these movements are perfectly understood by the Chinese, who will tell you, like the modern school of stage artists in the West, that scenery is an unnecessary bother. From "The Chinese Theater," by Frank S. Williams in Asia Magazine.

MUSIC OF MARVELOUS POWER

More Moving Than Any Sounds of Earth Are Those Heard in Churches of Russia.

And what shall I say of the music of a Russian cathedral? There is no organ and there are no female voices. The chorus choirs are composed of men carefully trained through a long series of years. The Russians have naturally rich, sonorous voices, and their sacred music is inexpressibly moving. At times soft and appealing, at others a wailing minor strain, it not infrequently swells into a volume of almost overpowering majesty. I have heard church music in many parts of the world, but such music nowhere else. It voices the sadness and suffering, the implicit faith and the solemn mission of a great people. More truly than any other church music in the world, it is the expression of the deeper soul of a nation, elemental in its moods of storm and tenderness, of half-barbarous passion and of sublime aspiration. Every time we heard it we stood in silence and awe, conscious that the strings of our hearts were being strangely swept and feeling as if we were in wide spaces under the open sky and in the presence of a Mount Sinai from which issued alternately the crashing thunder, the blazing lightning, and then the murmuring of trees and brooks, and the still, small voice. Was this more emotionalism? It may have been, but the mysterious spell still lingers in my memory.—Exchange.

Fine Work of Art in New York.

Most important in the collections of the Metropolitan Museum of Art is a delightful relief sculpture of Vishnu. "The Preserver, the Pillar of the Universe," says the New York Times. The relief is 61½ inches in height by 28½ in width and is beautifully carved from a greenish black stone in high relief. The figure, standing erect, is impressive and the serious face gives the idea of the thought power for which Vishnu stands, the balancing force between the contending powers of good and evil. There is a wonderful amount of finely carved detail in the ornamentation of the figure and the sort of canopy under which it stands. At the foot of the pillar on either side are two smaller figures, and in the upper part of the relief are tiny figures who represent the ten avatars of Vishnu. The figure comes from a temple in Kikkeri, in the Mysore district of southern India, which was erected in 1171, and the sculpture is supposed to date back to the last quarter of the twelfth century. It was removed to England in the early part of the nineteenth century.

A Very Live Tree.

In a recent St. Nicholas there is a picture of the battered trunk of a tree broken away in places, and inside it is growing a young tree. The old tree was one of the giant redwoods of California, and in spite of wind and fire it has made up its mind to keep right on growing in the person of the young tree in the very spot where it has stood for years and years.

During a terrible storm on the mountain the top of the tree was broken off and afterward the trunk was very nearly destroyed by a forest fire, but the root retained vitality enough to send up a young tree within the trunk, which protects it from the wind.

The original tree was a splendid specimen, more than 11 feet in diameter and towering high into the air, and its successor will probably be of equally size when the protecting old trunk falls away.

NO LONGER A JOKE

Boys in Khaki Don't Like "Slam" at Mother-in-Law.

Age-Old Standby of the Professional Humorist Has Been Killed by the War, and of Course There's a Reason.

The story is told from one of the huge auditoriums of the "Y" in a caustic note not far from one of the largest cities. The crowd extended to the doors and rows and rows of big, husky, clear-eyed boys in olive drab sag crowded together on the benches. The next day would find them en route to Berlin, but that did not matter to them. They were there to hear the big, burly man on the stage who was responsible for the shouts of laughter that blending together in one great roar almost lifted the roof.

One of the funniest comedians had made the special trip to their camp just to give them this opportunity. There is nothing that the American boy loves more than a good joke. The celebrated comedian was enjoying himself as much as the boys as one after another of his stories "got nervous."

He saved the best one to the last. With a twinkle in his keen eyes he sprang it, a brand new variation of the age-old mother-in-law story. He told it well, it was exceedingly funny and it was new. But it fell flat. The big spontaneous burst of laughter was not forthcoming. But they more than made up for it when they began to clap as the joker left the platform and when they gave him three cheers after the performance.

But it worried the comedian and later he asked a lieutenant about it. The lieutenant lighted his cigarette before answering. "I don't suppose you fellows outside this man's army have any reason for knowing this, but the old mother-in-law joke will never get over again. I couldn't laugh at one, no matter how funny it was, to save my neck. It wouldn't seem funny to me. You see when war was declared, I wanted in the worst way to enlist. Fellows with kids see it even before the single ones, but I felt that it wouldn't be right to do it then on account of Mary and the children. I couldn't keep up my home on a soldier's pay. If I gave up my job, it didn't seem the square thing to them then."

"Well, my mother-in-law sent for me to come around one night and see her alone on my way home from the office. She told me that she knew just how I felt about enlisting and that I wasn't to let the money side of it stand in my light for an instant. I could do what I could, she said, and she would make up the rest. She hadn't a bar of her own to go and anyway Mary and the children were to get all she had when she was gone, they didn't as well have it now when they needed it most. It's no use, the old mother-in-law joke is dead. There are hundreds of boys right here in this one camp who feel exactly as I do about it."

Sending Carrier Pigeons by Balloon

To increase the usefulness of pigeons in warfare wire cages, each just large enough for one bird, are now in use, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The cages carry grain for the birds and pencils and paper for unrounded dispatch writers. They are attached to small balloons that are used when wind conditions are favorable, and also to parachutes designed to be dropped from low-flying airplanes. On the other hand, several of them may be strapped to a trained dog and conveyed by him to the desired point. All of which is for the purpose of establishing communication with detachments that become cut off from the main body of troops and, while resisting capture, have no means of immediate escape without outside assistance. The wire cages are arranged so that the birds may be fed without being removed from them, and, furthermore, messages may be inserted in the pellets the pigeons carry without the latter being handled or even touched.

Versatile Packing House.

It was under experts who solved one of the most important problems incident to supplying our men with gas masks. It's a packer product that is used to staunch the flow of blood from the wounds of our soldiers; it's a packer product which is used to sew up the wounds; the soap with which the soldiers clean up after their turn in the trenches is a packer product; the glue which figures largely in the manufacture of airplanes comes from the packers; the aviators' sheep-pelt coats are packer products; glycerine for use in explosives, antihemorrhagic for inflicting purposes and leather for harness, puttees and the like come largely from packing houses.—Christian Herald.

Detectaphone Barred.

Conversations heard over a detectaphone were barred in the New York supreme court by Justice Goff until proof was introduced that the instrument works accurately. It was used by Mrs. Bertha Bloomer to gather evidence for her divorce action against Martin H. Bloomer, a lumber dealer. Counsel for Mrs. Bloomer protested that the detectaphone is being used by the United States government in its secret service work. Justice Goff replied:

"Anyone might place an instrument of this sort in a room and claim he had overheard conversations of someone he had not seen at the time."

A SODA LAKE.

Lake Magadi, in a barren, dry region of British East Africa contains millions of tons of soda deposits. Natives have collected soda from it for years without diminishing the supply perceptibly. Surface and subterranean streams heavily charged with soda constantly feed the lake. The chemical collects in the form of a white crust at the surface and a new crust forms as soon as the old is removed. The crust has the appearance of a snow-covered sheet of ice but its temperature is by no means like that of ice; it is so hot as to burn one's feet, even through shoes. An English company which has undertaken to develop the deposit commercially plans to take out something like 160,000 tons of soda annually, transporting it to the coast by a railroad which has lately been built for the purpose.

"If Carranza and his associates are not lacking in ordinary intelligence, they must know that the United States can not forever endure the anarchy which exists in Mexico, either because they are unwilling to maintain order or unable to maintain order. It may be true, as is often asserted, that the illiterate peninsulars of the United States to be unequal to the physical task of protecting its citizens abroad, but Carranza and those who share in his powers can not add such a belief."—New York Sun.

"Now that the food act has been amended so that the Department of Justice could get after the food gofers, the Attorney General asks the public to end profiteering." The public would be glad to do this, but there is a prominent feeling that it may need some official help.—Philadelphia Press.

ALWAYS WAS SLOW.

Editor—Jack's been calling on me for six months. Don't you think it's time he proposed?

Ma—Oh, no; it was nearly a year before he proposed to me!

BULK IS NOT VALUABLE.

The waters added to cereal foods during cooking increase the bulk of the finished dish, but not its food value. One cup of oatmeal may make four cups of porridge, but the four would yield no more nourishment than was found in the original cup of meal. In the same way 3 cups of flour have about the same food value as the pound loaf of bread into which it may be made.

CROSS-EXAMINATION.

"I hear you spent four hours last night in a poker den."

"Igh."

"Were you in this den or not?"

"I was in the anteroom, her husband admitted.—Pittsburg Sun.

"That charity begins at home is not lost sight of by the American commission charged with reporting on the advisability of accepting a mandate from Armenia. The commission points out the advisability of going to the other side of the world to straighten out the affairs of a wholly alien people when we have Mexico at our door."—San Francisco Chronicle.

Southern Opportunities

The eyes of the nation are turned towards the Southern United States. Many people are leaving the North because of the unpleasant winter months. Many farmers are going where the seasons are more likely to reward them for their toil. Men of wealth are buying winter homes in order to enjoy the wonderful climate and the many recreations to be found there.

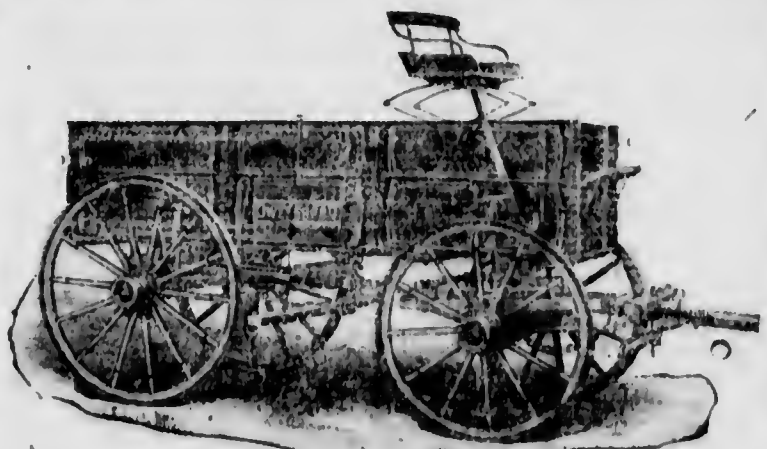

If you are thinking of going South you wish to go for some purpose. If it is to invest in a business enterprise we either have it for sale or can find it for you. If you wish to raise vegetables, grow oranges and tropical fruits, or general farming of any kind, we offer you the best bargains to be found in the South.

If you wish to invest in a 5 or 10 thousand acre tract for colonization purposes we have some of the finest unimproved land in the South, located in Mississippi and Alabama. This is level upland and near railroads and public highways. Price $8.50 to $20.00 per acre. Only a small payment in advance. Balance several years easy payment plan. We have improved farms of 100 acres or more which can be bought for one-half of the price the same land is selling for in the North. Terms reasonable. We will be glad to talk with you or give you any information you may wish to learn.

A 10 acre improved orange grove will yield an annual income of $3,000. These can be bought for $500 to $1,000 per acre. Location considered. General farming and vegetable land sells for $50 to $200 per acre. Unimproved land for much less. You only need a small farm to be independent in Florida. Now is the time to buy, as this land will increase 100 per cent in value in two years time.

Go South where people enjoy life and prosperity.
